stand the test of time?" Any time I say this is a classic print or something, it really sparks people's interests.

C.B.: I've tried to do that over and over lately; recommend design investments, because that's my philosophy.

J.D.: The nice thing about our blogs in particular is that they're informative, educational—but they're also entertaining.

SPECIAL REMODELING SECTION

The master bath features timeless details, including a unique floor pattern inspired by one Holman saw in a David Adler-designed house in Chicago. Holman chose this beautiful root-cut walnut bachelor's chest from Belvedere over traditional built-in cabinets for storage. Hinson sconces flank the mirrors and Kohler vanities. ■ The iconic Loop chair—a Frances Elkins design—puts a stack of towels within easy reach. Towels, Belle Chambre ■ Natural light floods into the space surrounding the soaker tub, while the tree canopy beyond provides privacy.
